

Teaching in an Adaptive Education Classroom. Where Do I Start?

So you landed your dream job in an adaptive education classroom for special education students! You want to rock this school year. Where do you begin? This workshop will provide educators with foundational strategies to teach students with significant disabilities. Participants will leave ready to enhance their classrooms with effective instructional strategies, visual schedules, TEKS-based lesson plans and classroom structure.

Participants will understand the importance of individual student schedules, communication systems, behavior strategies and independent work systems.
